Christian,

I cannot answer your last question until I know what you have. Should we proceed together in developing your product, together we will determine if this is a joint venture, an asset buy, or some other deal structure.

We have the most needed agreement in place right now and that is a 2-way non-disclosure so that you can feel safe sending us your product ingredients and other information. Just talking about it doesn't move us forward.

Hi Darnisha,

In regard to your message dated today,

"[7/20, 18:39] Darnisha: Christian, kindly help me understand your goal, you want to collaborate with Ennaid to develop a COVID-19 product, yes? If this is correct, kindly send me the written information you have about your product. Is that information in a presentation deck and executive summary? If so, kindly email them for my review so we can have a fruitful call tomorrow. Thank you.

My reply.

[7/20, 18:44] Christian B Magnongui: Ah, I see. I am new in this business. I was discussing how to patent the discovery with the US patent office.

Can we talk on the phone for some clarifications, before we go further?

Darnisha,

Don't you send me any legal document agreement we need to sign, protecting my ownership right (the patent) of my product from your office before I revealed it to you in writing or to any associates working on your behalf the presentation desk and executive summary of my product, for trial and business purpose?

My last question.

What will be the business agreement between me and your company or associates, once I reveal the secret of my product and it is manufactured? Because once I revealed it to your business and associates, will you guarantee not to drop the project until the project (product) is fully tested and completed?

I look forward to hearing from you in writing.

I am also available to talk now on the phone or at your convenient.

Sincerely,
Christian Bernard Magnongui
